

Creativity as Sacrament

An Evening with Jan Phillips

Friday, October 5, 2018 — 7:00 PM – 9:00 PM
Mt. Augustine — 5232 Broadview Rd.—Richfield, Ohio 44286

This presentation addresses creativity as a sacred gesture—one that involves collaboration with the Divine as a primary element of self-expression.

In this presentation, we will connect with our inner spirit and experience the sacredness of our own creativity.

- Discover your inner voice and what it has to say
- Understand the importance of your creativity and its contribution to the world
- Find new ways to honor your work and give it the time it deserves
- Experience the joy of surrendering your fears and allowing Spirit to be released through you

Jan Phillips is a writer, storyteller and workshop facilitator who provokes thought and inspires action. Her retreats and presentations are multi-media, multi-sensory events that connect the heart and brain. She uses images, music, poetry and stories to evoke non-dualistic original thinking and expression. Jan is founder and Executive Director of the Livingkindness Foundation. She has published 10 award-winning books and 3 CDs of original music. Her books and CD's will be available for purchase.
